

Pie charts showing (left) the percent of global crop lands that are irrigated (blue) versus non-irrigated (yellow) and (right) the percent of the world's food supply coming from irrigated agriculture (blue) versus elsewhere (yellow). (Background photographs: left, by Jeff Vanuga, courtesy Natural Resource Conservation Service; right, by Peggy Greb, courtesy USDA ARS Photo Unit.)